

PARTICIPANTS NEEDED

RESEARCH STUDY

EXPLORING ETHICAL ISSUES ARISING IN ROUTINE MATERNITY AND PAEDIATRIC CARE DURING THE COVID-19 PANDEMIC

WHAT WILL PARTICIPATION INVOLVE?

Attending a focus group discussion (2 hours) to talk to us about your perceptions or experiences of maternity or paediatric care policies and reorganisation of services at your NHS Trust during Covid-19.

The focus group discussion will be conducted online (via Zoom or MS Teams).

Participation is entirely voluntary. A £25 voucher will be offered for your time to participate.

WHO WOULD WE LIKE TO SPEAK TO?

Members of the public involved with the following NHS Trusts, and/or living in the NHS Trust local area:

Liverpool, Morecambe Bay, Sheffield, Birmingham and Lewisham & Greenwich and anyone else who is interested!

FIND OUT MORE

To learn more about participating in this study, please contact Dr. Carol Gray at:
Carol.Gray@liverpool.ac.uk

This is a qualitative study funded by the UK Arts and Humanities Research Council to that aims to make recommendations for ethics support at local policy-making and practitioner levels; and develop tools to support ethical decision-making practice. The study is led by Dr Lucy Frith, with Dr Anna Chiumento and Dr Caroline Redhead, University of Liverpool, Prof Heather Draper and Dr Paul Baines, Warwick Medical School and Prof Sara Fovargue, Lancaster University. Research associate on the project is Dr. Carol Gray.