

Comparing the effectiveness of Side-Lying sleep positioning to back-lying at redUcing oxygen desaturation resulting from OBstRuctive Sleep Apnoea in infants with cleft palate

Welcome to our SLUMBRs II ezine
ISSUE 4 June 2023

SLUMBRs II is an NIHR-funded, randomized clinical trial which will determine the best sleeping position for infants with a cleft palate

We now have 12 sites open
&
20 recruits

NOTTINGHAM
Top Recruiting Site
for May 2023

Question

Once I have a signed consent form what copies should I make, and where do I file them.

Answer

Please make two copies
Put a copy in the patient notes.
Give a copy to the parent.
Place the original in your site file.

SLUMBRs II Chief Investigator: Prof Iain Bruce

Study sponsor: Manchester University NHS Foundation Trust

Contact us: slumbrs@mft.nhs.uk

Visit our study website: <https://www.clapa.com/slumbrs/>